A CHANGE OF SEASONS

1962-1963 is a year of change reflected in a change of seasons. The cool crisp days of Autumn provide a colorful background for the new experience of the Freshmen and complement the high spirit and renewed vigor of returning Bates students.

The conflagration of our autumnal Bates campus soon fades to the brown and gray of November, and Indian summer gives way to the monsoon. Nights grow longer; the temperature drops. Students settle down to the serious business of gaining an education, while the soft white snows change the landscape to a winter wonderland.

The snows fall, melt, freeze, fall again. On through March and April the land is white. Like a sleeping giantess. Spring lies dormant until finally she bursts forth and announces that all too soon the Senior Class will be robed in flowing graduation gowns, diplomas in hand.

The 1963 editorial staff wishes to take you through the change of seasons with us, to show you the world of Bates, and to preserve its distinctive seasonal flavors throughout the ensuing years.

FALL

Homecoming, 1962. Bill Davis and Nancy Conway confer about the next play.

Drop the net on 'em, boys!

Remember when hazing was fun? — When Thanksgiving was sacred? — When Sadie Hawkins was a surprise? — When Homecoming was on campus? — When togas were in season? —

Hey! Read this part!

Very funny, but my hand's caught. The hazards of hazing.

But honest, I'm studying.

Amateur Night at the Holly.

Well if you really want to know what I think, I think it's a paramecium!

We hope to have Commons completed by . . .

Who's hazing who?

See the broom, "Seg"?

FRESHMAN ACTIVITIES

Making friends on Stanton Ride.

"We the seniors greet the freshman!"

The returning upperclassmen are greeted with a party.

The Class of '66 arrived on September 15 in cars crammed full. The campus was all in readiness with the traditional "Welcome to Bates" sign hung from the elms and colorful posters decking the dorms. Dean Lindholm opened the week with Traditions Night. President Phillips then welcomed the students and their parents, followed by Jim Curtis leading the singing of some traditional Bates songs. Sunday after the chapel service was held, the parents departed for home.

Now began a maze of activities for the new class. Placement tests were given, the Freshman tea was held, and between the numerous meetings, many Den breaks were taken. Discussions of the summer's reading were held. On September 21 this introduction was ended, for the upperclassmen returned to start the school year in earnest.

FACULTY

Frequent faculty meetings strengthen Academics at Bates.

INTRODUCING NEW FACULTY LEADERSHIP

The faculty forms the backbone of any educational institution. It is to this body of men and women that the students turn for guidance in their pursuit of knowledge. In the Bobcat Den, in their offices, in the classroom, anywhere — these people are always ready and willing to give of their time and energy to answer a student's questions or show him where to find the answers.

Under the capable direction of Dr. George R. Healy, newly elected in June, 1962, to succeed Dr. Rayborn L. Zerby as Dean of the Faculty, this group of men and women has an undoubted influence on the life of every Bates student. Classroom contact is but one part of the faculty-student relationship. Long-lasting friendships are often formed between professors and their students and it is this latter relationship which is perhaps one of the most valuable aspects of one's college career.

Dean George R. Healy

A new challenge — in our fast changing world the direction of the faculty body to meet our complex needs is no small undertaking.

I wonder how things are in Maine — President and Mrs. Phillips in Honolulu.

Now, if you're looking for a small friendly coed college . . .

Somehow I doubt that Praxiteles started this way — Doctor Woodcock, Judge Skelton, Mr. Lane and President Phillips at cornerstone ceremony for addition to Carnegie Science Building.

ADMINISTRATION

Hidden in the confines of Roger Williams Hall dwells a most inportant part of the Bates organization. These unseen entities, under the pseudonym of the Administration, daily perform the business necessary to running the college.

In his new role as Dean of the Faculty, Dr. George R. Healy directs the faculty business and is connected with the student body in his capacity as Director of Chapel Programing.

Also an integral part of Bates student life are Deans Boyce and Randall, administrators of the Bates men and women respectively. From these obliging residents of Roger Williams Hall, students receive answers to their many questions pertaining to college life and future endeavor.

Aiding students, chapel scheduling, registering student courses — these and many more are the duties of the group of administrators who embody the very heart of campus life.

LANGUAGES

The English Department seeks to develop in Bates students the twin virtues of intelligent reading and clear expression. From the basic courses of English 100 and 200 to the upper courses in Shakespeare and Advanced Composition, the Department prepares its students for the challenges of graduate study, journalism, teaching, or any of the countless other occupations toward which an English major strives. To insure a firm foundation, all English majors are required to take a cumulative, sequential four-semester course in British literature. In addition, all English majors must either take the Shakespeare course or do their senior thesis on "the Bard of Stratford-on-Avon." The English Department provides its students with the necessary scholastic preparation while simultaneously arousing those manifold cultural interests which enrich private life.

Doctor Alfred J. Wright, Jr. heads a department of six people in teaching such important foreign languages as German, French, Russian, and Spanish. The teaching process is aided by the modern language laboratory located in Hathorn Hall. Through the use of quality recording equipment and magnetic tape, Bates students are greatly aided in their pronunciation and comprehension of the modern languages. Courses in literature focus attention on the writings of leading authors studied in the original language. The Foreign Language Department also works closely with the "Junior Year Abroad" and "Work-Study Summer" programs which allow Bates students to perfect their knowledge of a foreign language through first-hand experience.

BIOLOGY

GEOLOGY

Courses in Biology, the "science of life," are of value to any student in a liberal arts curriculum. Courses include the study of both plant and animal physiology, cell theory, evolution, heredity, and the origins of life. The facilities in the renovated Carnegie Science Building provide excellent working conditions for the laboratory sessions which are a necessary supplement to text-book learning in any Biology course.

As is true of the courses in Biology, those in Geology at the undergraduate level will prepare the student for many divergent fields. For all students, regardless of their major, there is much cultural value to be gained from a subject stressing a fuller appreciation of the beauties of the earth on which we live.

MATHEMATICS

PHYSICS

Taken together, the courses in Mathematics and Physics give the student a solid foundation in what are generally considered the most fundamental sciences. With so much tension in the world today due to the advances made in modern physics, no person can claim to be truly educated who does not have some knowledge of the principles offered in explanation of these developments. The courses in Mathematics aim to develop methods of logical thinking and to emphasize the relationship of Mathematics to everyday living — especially its importance to the engineering sciences.

CHEMISTRY

The great technical strides made in the scientific age have created an ever-increasing demand for specialists in the chemical field. The Bates Chemistry Department, under the direction of Dr. W. A. Lawrance, is keeping pace with this demand. Courses in both organic and inorganic areas are offered the B.S. and A.B. student. For those majoring in Chemistry, three different programs are available meeting the requirements of industry and graduate school, teaching, and premedical preparation. These programs have received the approval of the American Chemical Society. Thus, a student can acquire the familiarity in theory and practice prerequisite to entering the chemical profession.

Courses in the Humanities which include Religion, Philosophy, and the comprehensive Cultural Heritage sequence afford the student an opportunity to investigate some of the most fundamental human questions that are being asked by each new generation. The courses in Religion and Philosophy combined with studies in other fields provide a well-rounded, integrated view of modern culture and endeavor to provide criteria for determining the ultimate nature of our universe. The unifying effort of the Humanities is culminated in the study of Cultural Heritage. This course unites the underlying elements of the establishment and development of our western civilization.

Here my concentric circle theory comes in.

Training for intelligent, active citizenship in our communities, nation, and world is the purpose of the Bates Social Science Department. The citizenship Laboratory in the core Government course provides the student with an introduction to the American system of Government. Other courses deal with various national governments, governmental problems, and political processes.

The introductory Economics course helps bring about an understanding of the economic world by surveying its origin, theories, and mechanics. Advanced courses provide the person who plans to enter the business world with a knowledge of economic theories plus the ability to apply that knowledge.

Throughout time, great nations have risen to power only to fall. Through various History courses, the student becomes acquainted with the reasons for the rise and fall of nations and has an opportunity to apply this knowledge to present times.

Late again, Rowlands?

In a rapidly changing civilization, one must be prepared to meet many and diverse challenges. The departments of Sociology and Psychology attempt to acquaint the student with the differing values and standards held by the peoples of the world. In this way he is gaining insight into present and future problems which he must be prepared to face and overcome.

Majors in the two areas have an opportunity to enter a wide variety of occupations after graduation. Past graduates include educators, consultants in foreign aid programs, personnel workers, and specialists in the dynamics of human groups. Thus both Psychology and Sociology make a major contribution toward a better life for future generations.

PHYSICAL

The courses of the Women's Physical Education Department are designed to develop and maintain physical health and general fitness. The program is set up to provide the student with a general knowledge of many basic activities and to give her concentrated work in several areas. The freshman student devotes her time to learning the rules and skills of a variety of seasonal sports. As sophomores and juniors, the students further apply the skills acquired during the first year.

The department aims to provide an opportunity for students to appreciate the place of recreational activities in daily living. To this end, there are inter-dorm athletics in which the students plays for enjoyment with the added incentive of playing for her dormitory.

Be it an intercollegiate sport or a friendly game of handball that's desired, it can always be found through the extensive program and facilities of the Physical Education Department. Cross-country, football, soccer, golf, basketball, track, baseball, and tennis all flourish on the Bates Campus. Over the years, these teams have compiled an admirable record for the college. Garcelon Field, with areas for soccer, baseball, and football, as well as a quarter-mile track, is the sports center in the warmer weather. Winter marks the birth of activity within the huge Gray Athletic Building. The swish of a basketball can be heard in the Alumni Gymnasium during the winter as Bates plays host to visiting opponents from every part of New England. Coupled with the capable leadership of qualified instructors, these facilities enable Bates men to engage in a rich and varied program of physical activity.

MUSIC

The Music Department offers a program that will be a cultural asset both now and in later life. In Music Appreciation the student becomes acquainted with the styles and techniques of composers through recordings and lectures.

An extensive program of extra-curricular activities including the Band and Choral Society provide opportunities for the campus musicians to enjoy their music and, at the same time, improve their skills.

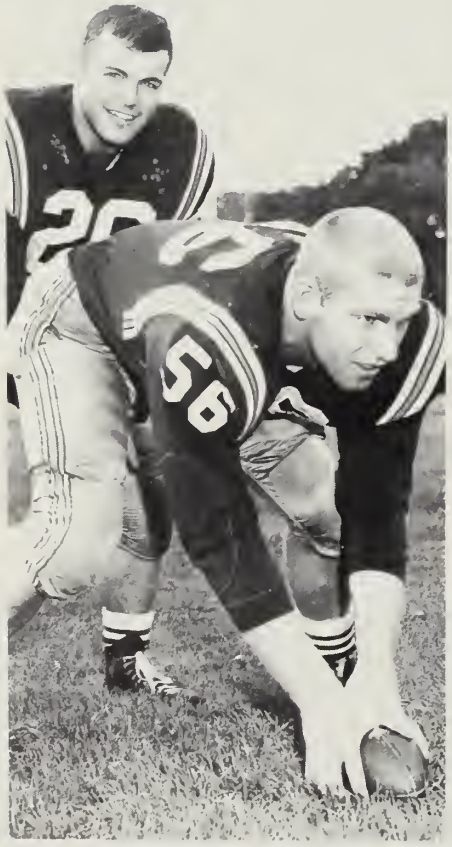
FOOTBALL



Co-Captains, Howie Vandersea, center and Bill Davis, quarterback.

The fall of 1962 was one of the finest ever enjoyed by a Bates football team. Winning five of their eight games, the gridiron charges of Coach Robert Hatch were the ninth Bates team in sixty years to play a winning season. The year was one of both thrilling victories and heartbreaking losses.

The Bobcats opened at Tufts; although defeated 30 to 12, they showed good potential. Freshman Tom Carr crashed through a tough Jumbo line for two scores, but Tufts, a New England small college powerhouse, had too many guns for the Garnetmen. Bates returned home to play host to a newcomer to the schedule, Norwich University. Paul Planchon made this, his season's debut, a game to remember. He carried the ball 17 times for 145 yards for a new school rushing record. He scampered 21 yards to paydirt to open the game's scoring. Bill Davis hit Paul Castolene with a pass good for 26 yards and a touchdown. Tom Carr closed out Garnet scoring by blasting his 225 pounds through the Norwich Line, then galloping 28 yards for 6 points. Norwich scored twice in the second half to make the score 20 to 14 before the final gun went off. The powerful Huskies from Northeastern were the next to visit at Garcelon Field. Howie Vandersea brought a rainsoaked crowd to their feet early in the game as he ran back an intercepted pass 55 yards for a touchdown. Northeastern scored early in the second half to take an 8 to 7 advantage. Bates recovered a fumble on the Northeaster 28 yard line, a pass from Davis to Yuskis was bobbled but Planchon recovered the ball on the 1 yard line and Tom Carr blasted over for the score. Bill Graham provided the clincher when he fell on a fumble in the Northeastern end zone to make the score 20 to 8.

The Cats took a trip to Worcester Tech and won their third straight game, as Tom Carr scored three times. The Garnetmen played host to the Panthers of Middlebury for Homecoming. The story was all Paul Planchon as he gained 113 yards running, caught a pass for the winning touchdown and did an outstanding job punting. Middlebury scored first on a recovered fumble. Tom Carr fought his way over for his eighth touchdown of the season, to tie the score 6—6. The game then turned into a defensive battle until Paul Planchon, faking beautifully, caught a Bill Davis pass and raced over for the winning score, the play covering 23 yards.

The second half of the season started as the Bobcats opened State Series play journeying to Orono to take on the Black Bears of Maine. The Cats were shut out for the first time as Maine won 20—0, in a hard-fought battle. Bowdoin was next on the schedule. The Polar Bears kicked a field goal at the end of the first half to lead 3—0. Bates came back in the second half to crush Bowdoin on the ground, behind Planchon and Carr. John Yuskis, freshman halfback, scored on a six yard reverse and Tom Carr scored from the three. The defense played a great part in the 13—3 win as they held Bowdoin to three first downs in the game. In a game that seemed like it was being played under a waterfall, Bates closed the season in heartbreaking loss to Colby. Colby took the opening kickoff ninty-two yards for a touchdown, then added another quick score, both times making the decisive extra points to lead 16—0. Planchon and Carr both scored in the first half to make the count 16—12. Neither team was able to move in the second half on the rain-soaked field.

On the season Tom Carr carried the ball 131 times for 494 yards and 10 touchdowns. Paul Planchon carried the ball 90 times for 473 yards, a 5.3 yards-per-carry average, tops in the state. Bill Davis completed 34 out of 73 passes for 360 yards and two touchdowns. Paul Castolene caught 14 passes for 155 yards and a touchdown. John Yuskis caught 13 for 115 yards. Outstanding on defense were Howie Vandersea, Phil Tamis, Bob Williams, Steve Ritter, Paul Planchon, John Yuskis, and Dave Stockwell. Bates will surely miss next year, Vandersea, Davis, Tamis, Williams, Rucci, Harrison, Curtiss and Castolene.

HAZE DAY

Haze Day, October 12, 1962 ... scene of much confusion and laughter ... the freshmen transformed themselves into unrecognizable creatures ... Pinnochios and other storyland figures virtually taking over the campus ... the upperclassmen looking on with interest and often participating with enthusiasm.

The den — a scene of a major part of the activity ... polls on everything! ... speeches, speeches, and then more speeches ... hardly room to move around ... but always, fun and a good time had by all.

Debibbing ceremony at night for the girls ... tears and laughter ... the boys' turn to remove their beanies will come at Saturday's game.

You see, its really easy.

Why did I ever come to this place?

His castle?

BACK TO BATES

Delight in dancing.

Grads both old and not-so-old arrived on campus Friday, October 19, 1962 for the traditional Back-to-Bates weekend. They wandered about the campus renewing old friendships and marveling at the many changes in their alma mater.

This weekend which began officially on Friday night and lasted until Sunday afternoon provided a busy schedule of activities for alumni and students alike. The Back-to-Bates football rally was held in the Alumni Gymnasium with the traditional reading of telegrams received from Boston to Hawaii. Saturday was marked by a Bates football victory over Middlebury (12—6) on Garcelon Field. The first Bates touchdown on Saturday afternoon marked the end of freshman hazing and the wearing of beanies. That evening students and graduates danced to music provided by Lloyd Rafnell and his orchestra.

Sunday morning Reverend William E. Flynn, Class of 1954, delivered the sermon in the chapel service. The Outing Club concluded the weekend's activites with an open house at Thorncrag.

BATES VARSITY SOCCER TEAM BORN

The 1962 Bates soccer team notched a 5—3 record in its first season of varsity status. The Garnet booters annexed the most successful campaign since the inception of the sport on the Bates campus, a season which was highlighted by a 4—3 upset win over Colby, the Mules second loss of the current season. Forward Bob Lanz's 13 goals copped the New England scoring title for the Garnet sophomore.

Coached by James Somerville, the Bobcats opened up their '62 season with an 8—0 whitewashing of Nasson College. Three Garnet players scored twice, Lee Nute, Raphael Onyemelukwe and Bob Lanz, while Bob Kramer and Dick Danosky each scored one. Freshman fullback Bob Thompson led the squad on defense as the Somervillemen picked up their only shutout of the year.

Lanz's four goals led the 'Cat booters past Nichols College in the Garnet home opener. The Rockville, Conn., resident also had his foot in the other two Garnet scores as he assisted Nute and Kramer who made the Garnet total six goals. Nichols found the range twice as Bates put in the reserves late in the game.

The 'Cat's opened up the State Series competition against Bowdoin on the Brunswick campus and lost as the Polar Bears rallied from a 1—0 halftime deficit to down the Garnet 3—1. Danosky was the lone Cat booter to find the range as the Somervillemen were outhustled the second half. Later in the week the Bates squad picked up their third straight win against out-of-state competition as Lanz scored twice to lead them to a 3—1 win over highly-rated Brandeis. Nute notched the other goal for the Bobcats.

Lanz drives toward the goal.

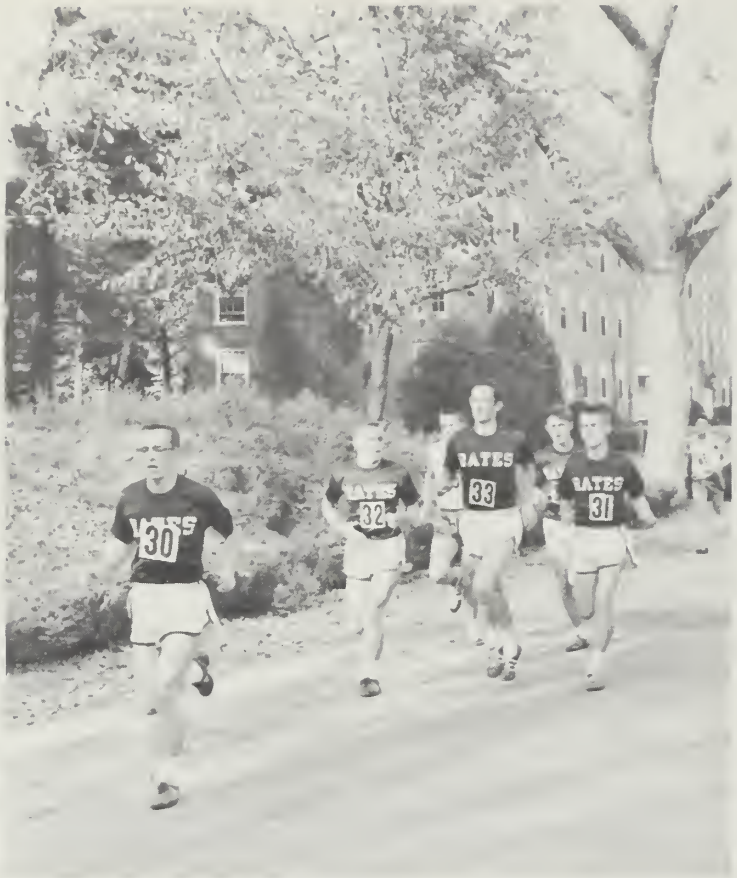
Waiting and hoping.

In their second State series contest the Garnet squad was routed by the Colby Mules, 8—1. Lanz took a lofty pass from George Beebe and put the Cats ahead with only 12 seconds elapsed in the game, but Colby came roraing back and shut out the high-scoring Lanz and his teammates over the remaining periods. A bid for revenge with the Bowdoin squad failed as the Garnet team lost the rematch, 2—1. Lanz ripped the nets for the sole score for the Cats. The Somervillemen made it a clean sweep against out-of-state competition as they came from behind to nip Clark University of Worcester, Mass., 5—4. Raphael Onyemelukwe and Nute paved the way with two goals each, while Lanz added to his New England scoring lead with one goal.

The Bobcat team wound up in their 1962 season with a home contest against the Mules who had earlier routed them 8—1. The hosts played their usual brand of come-from-behind ball as Lanz nudged a ball past the Colby net-tender late in the final period to break a 3—3 tie. Colby jumped off to a 3—1 lead after Lanz's game opening goal but Nute and Captain-elect Lloyd Bunten combined with two goals to set the scene for the Lanz game-winning goal.

Seven lettermen return next fall to give Coach Somerville the nucleus for a fine ball club. Lost through graduation are Lee Nute, Peet Aransky, goalie Don Mawhinney, who had an outstanding year in the nets, George Hunter, Colin Loader, Raphael Onyemelukwe, Dan Ustick and Jim Kiernan.

Mawhinney makes a save.



Eric Silverberg, Mike Gregus, Ken Trufant, Finn Wilhelmsen, Bill Dunham lead the harriers around the course.

"We'll show 'em."

CROSS COUNTRY'S BEST YEAR YET

The Bobcat Harriers finished an outstanding season chalking up victories against such teams as Bowdoin, Colby, M.I.T., Tufts, Boston University and several others. Sparked by Co-captains Bill Dunham and Eric Silverberg, sophomore Mike Gregus, and freshman Ken Trufant, the team had its best season since Cross Country was formalized as a varsity sport seven years ago. The Hill and Dalers started off the season soundly defeating Colby (19—42) on the new campus course. The following week the Harriers came out on top of Worcester (23—32). A very powerful University of Maine team then completely shut out the Solvenskimen, 48—15. In a tri-meet against the University of New Hampshire and Boston University, our runners finished in the middle behind U.N.H. but far on top of B.U., Old rival Bowdoin found our guys a little too fast for them. Bates came within two points of shutting them out, (17—42). Moving to Boston the Bobcats finished second only to Northeastern in a quadrangular meet against N.U., M.I.T., and Tufts. In the final two meets, the Eastern's and the New England's, the Harriers did a great job finishing second in each.

Seniors Bill Dunham, Ed Belden, and Ed Margulies will surely be missed after their outstanding work throughout their four years here at Bates. Their spirit and hard work helped the team to many of its victories. Next year's team should be even better with the first four men, Captain Eric Silverberg, Mike Gregus, Ken Trufant and Finn Wilhelmsen returning for another season.

Planning strategy.

Another win for Eric.

Lil' Abner and the rest of the gang from Dogpatch would have enjoyed themselves completely at the dance in the gym on November 10. Howie Davidson was there to call the square dances. What Bates students lacked in square dance skill was more than made up for by their enthusiasm.

Bates Sadies concocted amazing costumes and corsages. Marryin' Sam attended the event, ready to join any willing couple. Luckily Sadie Hawkins comes only once a year.

RING ROUND THE MOON

"I'm sure Monsieur Hugo chose it."

Judy Mosman and Nils Holt played the leading roles in Ring Round the Moon, the fall production of the Robinson players. Under the direction of Miss Lavinia Schaeffer they presented this satire by Jean Anouihl which attacked the tyranny of money and the meaningless existence of the world.

The performances on November 16,17, and 18 were kept lively by Ned Brook's hilarious portrayal of the butler, Judy Wendell's presentation of Lady India, and Malcolm Mills's moving portrayal of the pathetic, wealthy financier, Messerschmann.

The action centered around Hugo, a sophisticated man of the world, and Frederic, his modest, sincere twin brother, both played by Nils Holt. Phyllis Porton, Abigail Palmer, Noreen Nolan, Holly Milius, Carl Lloyd, and Robert Butler also starred in this comedy of the heart and purse strings.

HOCKEY PLAY DAY

The Hockey play day is supervised by the WAA. It is becoming a yearly event held in the late fall. Colby College, Maine University, and Bates participate in an invigorating day of field hockey. Bates was not lucky enough to win but she put up a very good showing against the bigger and more experienced teams. Colby came in first in the event; with Maine second and Bates third.

BASKETBALL

Bobcats Beat State Champs In Final Game!

After opening the season with three victories in five games, the Bates varsity basketball team ran into tough sledding after Christmas and experienced its second straight losing season. Cold shooting and a lack of height were the main factors responsible for most of the losses, as Bates' Bobcats seldom lacked hustle and spirit.

The season opened with a heartbreaking defeat, 75—73, to a very powerful St. Anselm's of Manchester, N.H. Despite the defeat, Co-captain Thom Freeman and sophomore Seth Cummings were very impressive and showed that they would be effective in later games. The first home game was a thriller, as Bates stunned pre-season State Series favorite Colby with a 56—54 over-time victory. Bates rallied late in the game to force the tie, and Cummings' two baskets in the extra period won the game. The students cheered the team that played such a fine game that evening; spirit reached a high point that night. After defeating American International of Worcester, Mass., 66—62, the Bobcats were unable to break a long-standing losing streak at Orono and lost to the University of Maine, 64—57. The Black Bears led 42—28 at the end of half-time and a Bates rally in the second half fell short. In the last game before vacation, Bates beat the surprising Bowdoin Polar Bears, 67—62. very few games that the Bowdies lost in State Series play this year. We seem to get the greatest delight out of beating the Blue Bloods.

The roof fell in after Christmas, and Bates lost six games in nine days. After being beaten by Williams and Springfield, the Bobcats met Maine at Lewiston with a chance to take over the State Series lead. But shooting by the Bears was too much, and they won 77—55. Two days later, Bowdoin barely held off an amazing Bates rally to beat the Bobcats. The Polar Bears led 47—26 at the half, but Pete Glanz and Fred Stevens brought Bates within two points before time ran out, with Bowdoin winning 71—67. The semester ended with losses to New Hampshire and Brandeis.

Three more defeats greeted the Bobcats after exams. Colby pulled away late, going on to win a 70—63 victory at Waterville. Then Bates held highly regarded Northeastern in check for more than half the game before the Huskies won 58—42. M.I.T. turned cold-shooting Bates into the ground 66—47 at Cambridge, and the Bobcats had come to the end that long, long losing streak. February 8, was a glorious day as Bates beat the strong Wesleyan team, behind the shooting of Cummings and Freeman in the second half.

WINTER

Bring on the Queen!

Winter Carnival began on January 24 with the official lighting of the torch in Augusta for the run to the Bates campus. The first event that night was the crowning of the queen, Virginia Erskine, by President Phillips. Events then began to whirl as the skating show got under way. Although almost everyone froze during this show, the square dancing which followed in the gym served as a more than sufficient "de-icer." The Dappers came in toward the end of the evening to give the final spark.

All were up bright and early the next morning for skiing and skating at the King Pine ski area in East Madison, New Hampshire. It was cold, but sunny, and soon the former square dancers were whizzing down the slopes. Many spills were taken, but no injuries occurred. After a tiring, but wonderful day of skiing and skating, a delicious meal was served at the Lodge. What made it even better was the fact that everyone could have all they could eat.

Informal dancing and singing by the weary ones continued until a men's trio came to entertain us with close harmony singing. Then everyone packed up and headed toward the Bates campus.

AN ALPINE

A lodge-full of hungry skiers.

The next day found many Carnival-goers watching the hockey game. Roger Bill and the Smiths combined and battled against the Parkers and J. B. to emerge victorious.

An hour later a more sedate, yet still lively event, a perforance by close harmony singing groups, was held in the gym. The singers from Springfield College, M.I.T., and University of Maine found a responsive audience amid the snowstorm of decorations suspended above everyone's head.

Then on Saturday night it was food again — mmm — steak, stuffed baked potato, rolls, onion rings, and to top it all off came apple pie a la mode. The dance that night was held in the Alpine country atmosphere. The dancers found themselves whirling amid snowflakes in view of a great Alpine mountain. The highlight of the evening came with the entrance of the queen bearing her scepter and robed in red velvet, and her court all carrying red carnations.

The final event of Carnival was held Sunday afternoon. Ski-skooters, skiiers, tobogganners, and snowshoers, were seen all around, up and down Mt. David. A few times the softball game was interrupted but no one minded. It was the slide to the finish of a fun-filled Carnival.

A SUCCESSFUL SEASON IN WINTER TRACK

Coach Walt Slovenski has, this season, lined up one of the best schedules in New England. This season the thinclads faced nine of the better New England schools. We opened against Tufts and have met New Hampshire, Northeastern, Brandeis, Boston College, Maine, M.I.T., and Bowdoin. While this year's team may not be as strong as last year's, it has achieved an enviable record.

In the field events Senior regulars John Curtiss and Joe Tamburino succeeded in garnering many points. There is depth in the weights this year with Junior Dave Harrison showing much promise and Freshmen Bill Davis, Tom Carr and Marty Sauer putting on some fine performances. Bill Davis has also been doing well in the discus event.

Moving to the other side of the Cage, the team of Bowditch and Johnson in the high jump has proved to be unbeatable. Against New Hampshire both cleared 6′1″, while against Boston College Tom Bowditch cleared 6′3″ his own personal record. Paul Williams has also done well this year in the high jump. In the Broad Jump Paul has been a consistent winner. He was joined this season by Paul Planchon and hurdler Alan Harvie. Senior Johnny Farr, a newcomer to the sport this year, has demonstrated his capabilities in the Broad Jump. The introduction of the fiberglass pole has enabled Sophomore Bob Kramer to vault 12′ with regularity. He has the potential and should go much higher. He is backed up by Junior Jon Olson and Freshman Tom Hiller, both of whom have made great gains this season.

In the running events, Bates was blessed with a fine crop of freshmen as well as many fine performances by the regulars. Mike Gregus, whose fine performance at the State meet last spring demonstrated his potential, turned in many good times in the mile. Mike also has run the third fastest 1000 yard race in the Cage. Freshman Marshall Snow and Sophomore Tom McEntee, though slowed by injuries, have completed well in the 1000 also. The incomparable Finn Wilhelmsen has truly shown his mettle by consistently running under 10 minutes in the two mile run. His most outstanding time was against Boston College where he was clocked at 9.52. Eric Silverberg has been doing a fine bit of running also this year in the mile and the two mile. Ken Trufant, a freshman, also shows promise in these gruelling distances.

In the 600 yard run Gerrit Binneweg and Jon Ford have shown their heels to most competition. They have been joined by Freshman Pete Peterson who has proven most effective in the relay as well. In the Hurdles Senior Captain Bill LaVallee, Allen Harvie and Bill Evans have been doing a very commendable job in gathering points for the thinclads. Paul Williams and Paul Planchon have placed well in the 45 yard dash and we are always sure of honors here.

Bates' relay team has shown considerable progress this year. In a recent meet against Bowdoin, a team made up of Gerrit Binneweg, Jon Ford, Paul Williams, and Pete Peterson set a new meet record with the winning team of 3:28.8. The entire team is looking forward to further success in its remaining meets of the outdoor season.

J. B. DOMINATES

An important segment of the Garnet athletic scene is the intramural program. From September to May this all-campus activity is bristling with life, encompassing all phases of sports, making places for all eager men.

A new school year starts the intramural season with king football. The boys from J.B., pressed to the wire by strong teams from East and South in A league competition, took the championship in a close game over the B league team from West Parker. The late fall is dominated by volleyball, a great team sport, which again saw an A league team from J.B. victorious. The basketball season now rolls around again, completing this cycle of enjoyable and important activity.

Following winter's activity which keeps the gym bustling afternoon and evening and weekends with basketball games, the scene shifts to lower Chase hall where the bowling competition is held. The old wooden alleys vibrate once more. Before the snow has melted from the ground a handball tourney is held and an indoor track meet provides excitement and aching muscles. After this comes softball which is the last activity before everyone enters the gym to face another kind of sport. Last spring the quality of play was high and equally distributed, with the championship being decided in extra innings. A strong club from East Parker emerged victorious, downing a game squad from J.B.

BETTY BATES

Betty Bates Week, Feb. 18-22, was one of the February highlights. This week emphasized the health, good grooming, and poise of every coed. This year, in addition to dining room presentations by the Deansmen, and skits performed by the WAA dorm reps and the seniors, there was an evening of helpful hints provided by Miss Jan Clark, a beauty specialist.

The big event took place on Friday night in the packed Little Theater. The eight candidates competed in three events. The judges then picked the semi-finalists, who were Nancy Day and Carol Kinney. The Bates women voted for one of the semi-finalists. Congratulations to Carol Kinney, Betty Bates of 63.

Student Council

The Student Council is the student government organization of the men of Bates College. The purpose of the Council is to secure the cooperation of the men in carrying out the general policy of the college, to promote its best interests, and to improve in all ways the condition of student life on campus. As presently constituted, the Council is composed of representatives from each of the classes; they are elected in the All-Campus Election for a term of one year. A non-voting representative of the men's Off-Campus Organization is also present at Council meetings. Among many other functions, the Student Council works closely with the Proctors of the men's dormitories. Besides performing their general administrative duties, the Proctors serve as an important communications link between the Student Council and the male students, and they are also involved in many phases of the Council's Freshman orientation program.

Student Government Board

Every woman student at Bates College is a member of the Women's Student Government and is welcome to attend meetings on Wednesday evenings in the Women's Union. The "Stu-G" board is composed of the officers, the president proctors of each dorm and the first vice-president of Page, the Sophomore and Freshman reps and the Senior Advisor.

Student Government serves a dual function. It is, first, a council for the coordination of dormitory policy and the rules under which all women students live. In this capacity Stu-G has decided upon and given life to the Honor System, an important part of the women's side of campus. Student Government functions, secondly, as a campus service organization. The board annually publishes the college directory and plans hazing and freshman week activities.

One of the most enjoyed traditions of Stu-G is the Christmas Banquet for all Bates women, students and faculty. At this annual affair, a steak dinner, Christmas carols, and a skit by Stu-G are highlights of the evening.

Must keep the gals posted!

Garnet

The Garnet staff publishes two issues of the campus literary magazine during each academic year, one in the winter and one in the spring. The staff consists of five members, all of whom share the duties of an editorial board in encouraging students to write and submit the fruits of their creative efforts for publication, and in selecting the material which is actually published. The Garnet contains poetry, prose, essays, and illustrations submitted by the active and creative students at Bates College.

Publishing Association

The purpose of the Publishing Association is to supervise the publication of The Bates Student, The Garnet, and The Mirror, and to see that these publications honestly represent the college. In actuality, the editors, business managers, and advisors to the respective publications are primarily concerned with representation. It remains for the board as a whole — the aforementioned editors, business managers and advisors, plus the three senior officers and three junior representatives — to act as a co-ordinator of the business details of the various publications. The annual budgets are submitted to the board for review and approval, as are annual reports concering the year's expenditures and profits.

Each year the Association selects the editors and business managers of the publications from letters of application.

Mirror Editorial Staff

The Mirror Staff is composed of two departments, editorial and business. The former is responsible for working up the layouts, obtaining pictures of the various organizations and activities on campus, and giving as complete a coverage as possible of Bates life. Special attention is given to the graduating class in hopes that the yearbook may be of additional significance to them. One committee is devoted to each of the major sections and deadlines are met throughout the year so that the completed book may be issued in the spring. The business staff handles the financial end of the publiciation, soliciting advertisements from local merchants. Working from an initial budget, they must recruit enough patrons to cover the remaining expense incurred by printing and photography. Circulation among Bates students and others is also taken care of by this group. It is believed that the Mirror will be of help to prospective Bates students and a "gallery of memories" for present students.

These hours are also spent in deciding upon the contents of the following week's edition. No sooner is a neat eight pages proudly tucked away and pronounced completed, than the new deadlines loom before the staff, demanding attention. The newspaper voices student concerns and opinions. WRJR is a student supported organization. With the money acquired during the annual fund drive, improvements are made for the coming year. New equipment is purchased, Bates sporting events are covered. The small group which made the Bates radio station a reality is now a rapidly growing organization. Broadcasting between 6:30 P.M. and midnight, some twenty-five D.J.'s now present music for many moods as well as discussion programs on topics of current interest. Variety is the station's by-word as it produces shows, not only for its Bates listeners, but also for the Lewistown audience. Many students are involved with the station other than those doing the actual broadcasting. All contribute to making WRJR "the best in sound for miles around."

OUTING CLUB BOARD

Bates College has the second oldest Outing Club in the country, yielding first place to Dartmouth. It was formed in 1920 by a group of forestry students who were interested in promoting outdoors activities and who wanted to provide the means for enjoying such activities. As a result, every student is officially a member of the Outing Club and nearly all will graduate with memories of participating in O.C. events. Activities are planned by a Council of thirty-six members, six men and six women from each of the upper classes. Officers and directors are chosen from the Council and form the Board, which shares the responsibilities of leadership. Each spring, twelve freshmen are chosen to replace the graduating seniors.

O.C. sponsors many interesting and adventuresome activities throughout the year. One of the oldest memories of a Bates student is the open house held at Thorncrag during Freshman Week. During the fall, mountain climbs are held, including one to Mt. Washington. Ski trips take over in the winter and, this year, there has been the added attraction of overnight trips to Sugarloaf and the O.C. ski cabin. Winter Carnival provides an enjoyable break between semesters, while the Popham Beach Clam Bake, as a part of Ivy Weekend, is perhaps the most anticipated social event of the spring semester. In short, O.C. has succeeded in making many of our college traditions unforgettable.

Political Union

The Political Union exists for the purpose of giving interested Bates students the opportunity to talk with experts in the theory and practice of government. At the club's meetings, students may discuss relevant questions with leaders in the field of teaching government or those affiliated with local, state, or federal government. The student is given an opportunity to compare views of various authorities and to become acquainted with the realms of public administration.

Gould Political Club

The Gould Political Club is one of the only two bi-partisan organizations on the Bates campus. The purpose of this organization is to allow for an interchange of ideas and information between those interested in the field of government. A recipient of numerous articles from diverse national and international organizations, the Gould club attempts to present programs which will relate such information to the students. Members are often called upon to attend various regional or national conventions concerning some aspect of government.

Barristers

The Bates College Barristers are organized on a rather informal basis. Students interested in law are welcome to participate in all the activities of the club. Meetings are held in response to specific opportunities. Officials from law schools visiting the campus are invited to meet with the Barristers to discuss matters pertaining to a legal career. Occasionally the club will extend an invitation to a representative of an area law school to conduct a moot law class. Advice, information, and fellowship are afforded future lawyers through the organization.

The History Club is an organization made up of those students who have an interest in history and historical subjects. Small in numbers, a total membership of twelve or so are joined each meeting by interested visitors to enjoy programs on a wide range of subjects from movies to lectures to song fests. Good fellowship prevails, as is always the case when "good friends get together." Debate Council

Instituted before the turn of the century, debating is one of the college's oldest and proudest activities. Bates can claim the honor of having initiated international debating in the 1920's; almost annually, Bates College meets a debating team from the British Commonwealth. A number of major tournaments constitute present day inter-collegiate debate. Novice debaters are given the opportunity to participate in several contests in the New England area. Varsity teams regularly attend the New England and Eastern speech championships. In their junior year, varsity participants are eligible for election to Delta Sigma Rho, the national honorary speech fraternity.

Activities include an educational program utilizing speakers, films, discussions, and study groups. Meetings have dealt with topics such as civil rights, nuclear disarmament, and the political, economic, and moral aspects involved in the attainment of world peace.

Young Democrats

I won't be convinced!

Bates College Young Democrats belong to the national association of Young Democratic Clubs. Communication with the national headquarters keeps the group informed on important current issues. An election year is a busy time for the members, all of whom participate in national, state, and local campaigns. Since the Maine Democratic Party headquarters are located in Lewiston, there is always work to be done at the local office, posters to be hung, literature to be distributed. On election days, the Young Democrats help to "get out the vote" by baby-sitting and driving people to the polls. The group contributes to campus life by attempting to promote interest in both sides of the political coin.

The Bates College Republican Club has been broadened to include several new areas of activity such as a by-line in the local papers, the solicitation of eminent speakers and increased social activities to bring about political awareness. The organization's "raison d'etre" is the exposition of the Republican philosophy. The new administration holds that not armchair theorizing, but a constant search for positive solutions to major problems, present and future, guide their action. Adherence to the inherent worth and dignity of each individual is basic.

Phi Sigma Iota

Phi Sigma Iota is a national honor society for college students and teachers of the Romance languages. The Bates chapter, Kappa, now one of fifty-eight active chapters in American colleges and universities, is open, upon recommendation of the faculty, to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. During the period of his college membership, each student is required to present orally at least one original paper. The paper is then discussed and analyzed by members of the group. Following the purpose outlined by the society, monthly meetings are designed to promote "high scholarship and individual research in the field of the Romance languages and literature."

There has been an outstanding interest shown in the French Club this year; more than thirty members have attended some of the meetings. In addition, to joint meetings with the Spanish Club, students have enjoyed a songfest, movies and slides, a buffet supper, and talks about trips to France by some of the members. The organization has benefited from the presence of its advisor, Dr. Wright, as well as other members of the language department, and has appreciated the use of their homes for meetings.

The Deutsche Verein is the oldest club at Bates College. During monthly meetings at the home of Professor Buschmann, advisor, its members explore various areas of German culture such as art, literature, music, and the German way of life. In addition to its regular meetings, the German Club holds a Christmas banquet annually, as well as a spring outing, which are always enlivened by typical German Gemutlichkeit!

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club meets regularly, often in conjunction with the French Club. Programs include guest speakers, films and slides, and supper meetings, all of which fulfill the organization's main purpose, which is to provide students of Spanish an opportunity to get together, speak the language, and learn more about the country and its people. Advisors for the group have been Dr. Wright, Miss Garcelon, and Professor Seward.

The purpose of the Sociology Club is to promote interest in the field of sociology through discussion, lectures, and field trips. Many professional people present programs which are related to the field. These lectures and discussion groups provide the student with an opportunity to develop interest in the ever-expanding field of sociology. Each spring, as a conclusion to a year of hard work, the members socialize at the annual club picnic held at one of Maine's many lakes.

In 1961 the Psychology Club was formed for students interested in any phase of this subject. Field trips to psychology laboratories have added enrichment in the areas of practical learning, while the annual Christmas party and the spring outings provide social activities. Many noted speakers have been featured and the variety of topics discussed cover all areas of the field.

Student Education Association

The Student Education Association is the professional organization for students preparing to teach. Local chapters and student state education associations are integral parts of the Student National Education Association, which tries to deepen the interest of capable students in teaching as a career. The purposes of its program are to provide opportunities for personal and professional growth; development of leadership skills; and participation in professional activities at local, state, and national levels. Activities featured by the R.A.F. McDonald Chapter include discussions of new trends in education presented by prominent figures in the field, the annual visit of the Lewiston High School F.T.A., and a panel of student teachers relating their classroom experiences. Each year delegates are sent to several state and regional conferences.

Old profession, new ideas.

Economics Club

Last spring witnessed the beginning of the Economics Club. It was decided by some of the students in the department that because of the importance of economic theory in the modern world, a club should be organized for the purpose of discussing various theories and each one's place in the business world. Guest speakers, ranging from local businessmen to the president of the college, have provided the club with material which will be beneficial to its members in later careers.

Jordan Ramsdell

Biology, geology, mathematics and physics majors compose the membership of the Jordan Ramsdell Scientific Society. An honorary organization, members are elected in their sophomore and junior years. The varied programs presented reflect the influences of the four departments involved and are geared to a level of common understanding in the area of science. To climax the year, an annual outing to Reid State Park is planned with lobster offered as the main feature of attraction.

The Lawrance Chemical Society is open to all chemistry majors of the sophomore, junior and senior classes. Meetings feature either speakers from other colleges or those people involved in some phase of industrial chemistry. This affords members of the club a broad outlook on the opportunities in the field. One meeting is devoted to talks by the senior members on their thesis topics and one to the junior members. The big social event of the year is the Christmas party held at Dr. Lawrance's home.

Art Association

Art, especially the creative end of it, opens new doors to the world, to the mind, and to the self. The Bates Art Association allows every student this opportunity to create. It provides a place to work, a little room in Hathorn Hall, and an interested and capable advisor. Other essentials provided include oils and canvas, pastels, ink and pen, watercolors, charcoal, block printing materials, a press, clay, easels, and often the added luxury of coffee and music. Student-faculty exhibits are held at intervals during the year. The association also makes possible many trips to neighboring art exhibitions and lectures.

Off-Campus Men

The Off-Campus Men's Club is actually made up of over fifty members; however, because they are "off-campus," a composite meeting is naturally difficult. The club has been organized primarily as an intramural unit with teams competing in every sport. It also has a representative, but no vote, on the Student Council, enabling off-campus men to voice opinions as well as learn of events and decisions of interest to all male students.

Merimanders

The Bates College girls' sextet, commonly known as the Merimanders, was casually formed in 1957 and, with a few replacements, has been singing ever since. Many audiences have been entertained within these few years by songs which comprise the varied repertoire of the group. The "Meris" versatility has led to performances at various local clubs and student social gatherings. In addition, they have appeared on television and have made their own record. Whether they are attired in Bermudas, skirts and blouses, or blue and white formals, the Merimanders guarantee good singing and pleasant memories.

The Deansmen, in formal operation since 1957, have again this year provided the college community with a warm and skillful blend of music, ranging in style from folk songs to Broadway musical numbers. The group is by no means limited to the campus, however, having performed for Alumni groups in other states as well as for concerts in Lewiston and the rest of the state. One of the strongest features of the Deansmen is their amazing versatility, both in their selection of songs and in the talent of the individual members. By doing their own arranging, the group has built up an extensive repertoire which will continue to entertain Bates students for years to come.

Our theatrical group, the Robinson Players, brings to the campus a variety of entertainment. At their monthly meetings, the members of the organization have an opportunity to display the many facets of their talent. They also produce plays each season for the public. This year, under the direction of Miss Schaeffer, they presented Ring Round the Moon, a comedy by Jean Anouihl, and Shakespeare's Hamlet. The group also brings to the campus several movies each year, some of which are from foreign countries.

Christian Association

The main objective of the Bates College Christian Association is to provide all of the students and the community with activities of a diversified nature as well as activities aimed at the moral aspect of campus life. Some of the campus activities that have been sponsored by C.A. this year are weekly swimming parties at the "Y", weekly Vesper servies in the chapel, and several chapel speakers at the regular chapel periods. Of the more important services to the community that are sponsored by C.A., the following must be included: the student tutorial project, weekly work trips to Pineland, a Christmas party for underprivileged children, financial support for community service organizations, and a four day religious emphasis convocation on the religions of the world. This brief list in no way exhausts the services that the C.A. offers, but it is hoped it will give students some idea of the scope of the C.A.

Chase Hall Dance Committee

The Chase Hall Dance Committee is the campus student organization charged with the responsibility of providing a degree of co-educational social life. Generally, this takes the form of the popular Saturday night dances held in Chase Hall, at which a good proportion of the studentry gathers for an evening of fun and entertainment. The Chase Hall Dance Committee is the sponsor of the annual "Sadie Hawkins," and is also the principle backer of Homecoming Weekend in October. In addition, it serves in an advisory capacity to all other organizations on campus which desire to hold dances in Chase Hall.

Chapel Choir

The Bates College Chapel Choir has as its major task, the selection and presentation of music, for the weekly religious chapel services. In addition, they prepare occasional special programs and, this year, appeared on a Portland television station at Christmastime. Rehearsals are held weekly, much time being spent practicing for the regular performances.

Choral Society

Meeting every Monday and Thursday evening throughout the year, the Choral Society works hard to present its two main concerts. The performance of the Christmas Concert comes just before vacation, culminating a fall of rehearsals concentrated on this one day. It consists of the great sacred music of the season, this year presenting Handel's "Messiah." In conjunction with the band, the Choral Society also sponsors the Pops Concert in the spring. Both of these organizations present light, secular music at this formal dance. Under the direction of Professor D. Robert Smith, the Choral Society consists of sixty members from all classes and elects its own officers. The major purpose is to give the campus fine musical programs.

The Men's Intramural Council functions as an expression of the men's desire for athletic participation other than gym classes and varsity sports. The members of the Council are chosen by the men of their dormitories to represent them and to organize their athletic activities. The coordination between the council and the men has been very successful, having led to the addition of track, bowling, and skiing to the regular intramural program in the last two years.

The Bates College Cheerleaders lead on the fans at Garcelon Field and the Alumni Gymnasium as well as in frequent appearances at the away games. Despite rain, snow, and sleet, the cheerleaders can be found in their white slickers, trying to avoid the mud in front of the stands, but never lacking in spirit. Football rallies and basketball games would not be complete without a few Bob . . . Bob . . . Bobcats and the new cheers which have been added. This year alternates were chosen so that the squad may be composed of eight at all times.

BAND AND MAJORETTES

In addition to the possession of musical talent, all members of the Bates College Marching Band must possess a certain amount of hardiness that will enable them to perform under all conditions — both good weather, which spells uniforms and bad, which means any kind of protective dress.

The band, under the combined leadership of Student Director Kevin Gallagher and President Bill Holt, was particularly strengthened this season by the addition of a copious number of freshmen to the brass section.

In addition to their performance during football season on Garcelon field and at pre-game rallies, the band accompanies the team to away games that are within reasonable traveling distance.

In the spring the marching band undergoes transformation to a concert band with the addition of oboes and a bassoon. This new group makes their debut and only appearance at the annual Pops Concert.

Football season is also majorette season. Practicing in the Rand gym, marching at rallies, and twirling with the band at football games are all part of being a majorette. Normally tryouts are held in the spring, or when openings appear, for all interested women.

POPS

Sounds of music, dancers, sweeping floor length gowns, flowers, and tuxes filled the gym on the evening of April 14, 1962. Carrying out the theme, American Sampler, red, white, and blue stripes predominated in the decorations and on the programs. The feature of the evening was the concert by the Choral Society and the Concert Band. Songs of New England, the South, the West, and selections by Gerschwin and other American composers highlighted the evening's entertainment.

BASEBALL TEAM AT N.C.A.A. TOURNEY

The 1962 Garnet baseball squad boasted a highly successful spring season. They finished the regular season winning eight out of twelve games. By beating Bowdoin in the last game in the season we played Colby for the State Series Title. The two teams split the season series at one game each. Because of their fine showing, Bates was selected to represent New England in the Eastern N.C.A.A. Small College Tournament at Teaneck, New Jersey. Behind the strong arm of ace hurler, Thom Freeman and Ron Taylor's two run homer, Bates defeated Fairleigh Dickinson in the opening round, 2—1. Bates lost to Rollins College of Wintergarden, Florida in the championship game 8—3, a game not as lopsided as the score would seem to indicate. Paul Holt and Lee Swezey stood out in the offense for the Garnet. Swezey scored twice and Holt drove in all three runs.

In the regular season the Bobcats opened against Tufts. Howie Vandersea hit a homerun but Tufts prevailed 4—1. Bates was blanked in the second game 6—0 by Northeastern. In the third game, Chick Leahey's men found the winning formula as they stopped Lowell Tech 3—0. Everybody got into the act as Bates won the next game 17—2 over Clark. Back at home we faced M.I.T. and won a 5—2 decision at Garcelon Field. Despite Ron Taylor's two homeruns Bates dropped a 4—2 game to Suffolk University. The Garnet opened State Series play by trouncing Colby 12—6 as Red Vandersea slammed a four bagger. An excursion to Maine proved profitable as the Bobcats stopped the Black Bears 7—2 behind Thom Freeman's and Archie Lanza's bats. Bowdoin was the next victim as John Lawler's grand slam gave Bates a 9—5 win. A trip to Waterville proved unpleasant as the Mules outclassed us 4—1. Maine visited us and they come out on the short end of a 5—2 score as Freeman won another game. In the season's finale at Brunswick, Thom Freeman's sixth win 4—1 and Lee Swezey's hot bat gave the Bobcats a tie for the State Series laurels.

Outstanding during the year were Red Vandersea, Paul Holt, Archie Lanza, Ron Taylor, Lee Swezey, and John Lawler. But perhaps the most credit must be given to big Thom Freeman who pictured seven victories in eight games. With almost everyone back, the 1963 season looks bright for Coach Chick Leahey and his charges.

SPRING TRACK CAPTURES EASTERNS

Bates opened the 1962 Spring Track season with a resounding 87—48 victory over Northeastern. Although several key performers were unable to compete, Bates' depth came through. Outstanding performances were turned in by Bob Peek, who won both dashes, the 100 in a meet record of 10.1 seconds. Larry Boston and Pete Schuyler won the 880 and mile respectively, while Jim Nye took the discus and Dave Boone won the broad jump. In the high jump, Tom Bowditch and Dave Johnson placed one-two, the winning jump recorded at 5′10″, John Curtiss placed third in the javelin even though he had just been released from the infirmary.

The season's second effort saw the Slovenskimen completely overwhelm Brandeis, Colby, and Norwich (89—31—21—18). Bob Peek once again captured the winner's wreath as he won both the 100 (10.3) and the 220 (23.3). Other firsts were posted by Carl Peterson in the discus (127′9¾″), Dave Boone in the broad jump (19′ 3½″), Paul Palmer in the 120 yard high hurdles (17.4), Tom Bowditch in the high jump (5′10″), Pete Schuyler in the 440 (49.4), Finn Wilhelmsen in the two mile (10: 12.8), and Dave Janke in the low hurdles (26.9).

Pete Graves bringing in the glory at the State Meet in the 880.

Planchon taking honors in the broad-jump.

Fortune apparently deserted Bates in the Maine State Meets as the Bobcats finished a distant third behind Maine and Bowdoin. The Maine thinclads amassed 72 1/3 points to Bowdoins 50, Bates' 37 2/3 and Colby's 5. The 'Cats managed only two firsts — Pete Graves won the 880 (1:57.5) in an outstanding effort, and Al Harvie nipped Maine's noted Baron Hicken in the high hurdles (15.1). The brightspots were few in the entire picture. However, Carl Peterson gained a third place in the discus with a toss of 133′ 5″, Paul Planchon captured a fourth in the broad jump with the best effort of his career (21′1/2″), Mike Gregus took a third in the mile, Finn Wilhelmsen a third in the two mile, and Bill LaVallee, despite an injured foot, managed a fourth in the low hurdles. The Allen Hillmann Memorial Trophy was awarded to Maine's triple winner Pete Mac Phee, as the meet's outstanding performer.

The season ended on a bright note, however, as the Bobcats bounced back to cop the Eastern College Athletic Conference track championship at Worcester. Bates' 72 points were enough to emerge victorious over Bowdoin, Central Connecticut, Trinity, WPI, MIT, Southern Connecticut, and Middlebury. Bill LaVallee set a new ECAC record in the 220 yard low hurdles with a clocking of 24 seconds flat. Moreover, he took second in the high hurdles. Bob Peek came through with a first in the 220 yard dash (21.7) and a second in the 100 yard dash. "Daddy" Lou Riviezzo won the quarter mile in 1:54.8. The garnet took seconds in three events; Jon Ford in the quarter mile, Finn Wilhelmsen, who posted his best time yet (9:40) in the two mile, and State Meet winner Pete Graves in the half mile.

Without a doubt, this team was one of the best seen at Bates — the fine effort in the ECAC Meet serves as an example of what a team can do when it works toward the common goal of victory.

GOLF

The 1962 golf season at Bates was miserably wet and cold — then again this is invariably so. This is not to say that the tennis and baseball teams were supplied with an overabundance of sunshine either. There is just something about Central Maine weather that is not conducive to athletic contests. However, the Golf team manages to supply its own bright spots.

Chuck Lasher, one of Bates' outstanding sporting enthusiasts, was undoubtably one of the most effective men on the New England circuit. He scored consecutive rounds of 73, 75, 70 and 69.

Statistically, Bates compiled a 5 and 8 record, finishing third in State Series competition. Bates also placed third as a team in the State Series Field Day at Augusta. Chuck Lasher and Captain-elect Tom Brown were the only members to qualify for the 18 hole final round. Lasher finished third while Brown took ninth place.

Tom Brown

Blasting out of a trap

Under the captaincy of Bob Zering, Bates' finest playing captain in many years, the season was fruitful. Relative to the Golf teams of the past, the output was sterling. Relative to the expectations of the team members, the season left something to be desired, but one must remember that golfers are optimists of the first magnitude.

With the return of a fine nucleus to build on and the aid of Coach Hatch, the Golf team is looking forward to a great year.

TENNIS

Our netmen have never looked better. If we pass over the two meager losses to the Polar Bears, the record reveals overwhelming victories. April 18 was a bad day at Babson as the Bobcat netmen shelled the Wellesley Executives 9—0. Next to be crushed was Clark University, who were consecutively aced to an 8—1 defeat. With the black cloud of Bowdoin defeat threatening the Peckmen's skill and confidence, the Bates netmen trounced the previously undefeated Lowell Tech team by a score of 8—1. Beating the University of New Hampshire Wildcats did not prove difficult for the Bobcat racketmen. U.N.H. cringed 'neath the forehand smashes of Corey and Wallach, who put the final wraps on an 8—1 victory. The Black Bears of Maine should never have emerged from hibernation. Kean and Corey helped bombard the Bears by a score of 5—2. Jim Corey, George Beebe and Jim Wallach formed a fearsome trio which reversed the Brandeis Judges' decision by a verdict of 5—4. The racketmen had one of their better years, posting an excellent 9—2 record. Both losses were inflicted by the Bowdoin Polar Bear. Colby fell at Waterville, 6—3, on a windy day. Bates squeaked out a surprisingly close 5—4 win over Maine as Wallach, Corey, and the doubles tandem of Lloyd and Beebe provided crucial points. The racketmen ran into a tartar, bowing to Bowdoin, 9—2. The match was closer than the final score indicates. The "Bowdies" were extended in several singles matches. Beebe had a part in gaining both points, defeating his man in singles 6—2, 6—1, and teaming with Lloyd to win third doubles 7—5, 3—6, and 9—7. Colby fell on the Lewiston campus again 6—3 as Batesmen swept four of the singles.

Jim Wallach

Jim Corey has the best singles record on the team, a sparking 9—2 record, the same as the team's. Jim Wallach, who must be voted the most improved player on the team, suffered only three setbacks in the eleven-match season. The Wallach-Corey doubles combination posted six wins in eight tries. George Beebe also had an excellent record. In doubles he was undefeated.

WAA Board

FIRST ROW: A. Wignall, K. Pease, L. McCabe, L. Olmsted, J. Mills. SECOND ROW: D. Whitney, A. Cawley, V. Erskine, L. Jarrett, B. Tarr, N. Jensen.

Throughout the school year the WAA board sponsors a variety of activities. Beginning in the fall with the annual Hockey Sports Day, the program is continued with inter-dorm volleyball and basketball competitions. In the winter there are ski lessons for novice skiers as well as trips for those more advanced. The program is concluded in the spring with the Old-New Board banquet and the Awards Banquet.

SPRING SPORTS

Stance, draw, . . . think, release!

Swish . . . fore!

Remember that form, girls?

In the spring WAA does not sponsor organized activities. Sports assume an individual nature. Tennis, archery, and golf become the highlights of the season.

JOHN BROWN'S BODY

The house lights dimmed. An air of expectancy fell over the audience. The curtain rose on act one of John Brown's Body by Stephen Vincent Benet. In perhaps the most unique production ever staged at Bates, the Robinson Players, with an absence of stage decoration and a minimum of action, recreated for the audience the story of the Civil War.

Director Lavinia M. Schaeffer's careful interplay of speaking and music stimulated the imagination of the listener and caused him to consider the intellectual aspect of the play. An atmosphere of varied emotion pervaded the theater which helped the audience relive the crucial time of John Brown's execution.

THE COLLIGIATE SOUND

Presenting the Wheatones of Wheaton.

Good collegiate close harmony came to the Bates campus this year through the combined efforts of the Deansmen, Merrimanders, and Student Council. The tempo of the evening ranged from the Alpha Chord's soft, romantic ballads to the Barber Shop comedy of the Bowdoin Bachelors. An enjoyable night's entertainment was provided by the singing groups from Bowdoin, Amherst, Colby, University of New Hampshire, and Wheaton.

Ivy Day, May 7, 1962, ushered in The Spring with witty toasts and somber orations in the Chapel and ivy planting beneath the class plaque outside the library. This is the traditional expression by the Juniors of hope for intellectual growth.

The following weekend was pure enjoyment before the gearing for final exams. On Saturday, the thirteenth, the outdoor art exhibit of work by Bates students and faculty, and townspeople was set up on the walk outside the Den. The evening's excitement was at the dance, Fifth Dimension, elaborately and futuristically decorated by hardworking members of the Junior class. Sunday was spent at Popham Beach enjoying lobsters, steamed clams, icy salt water, and long stretches of sand with no relief from the sun. And on Monday — no relief from burning skin.
